About the Business:

Restaurant and Catering Business

This well-established restaurant and catering business for sale, based in Port Elizabeth, Eastern Cape, South Africa, offers more than just a successful hospitality operation. It has become a popular destination where customers gather to enjoy quality food, great coffee and memorable social occasions in a welcoming environment.

The business generates income from both daily trade and a growing function and event segment, creating multiple revenue streams and reducing reliance on walk-in customers alone. Private celebrations, special occasions, corporate gatherings and catered events form an important part of the operation and provide excellent opportunities for continued growth.

Situated in the heart of Gqeberha, the business is well positioned to serve both local residents and the wider Eastern Cape market, while benefiting from the city's vibrant hospitality and events sector. The business operates from attractive, well-presented premises and benefits from a loyal customer base, strong community support and an established reputation built through repeat patronage and positive word-of-mouth referrals.

This opportunity is particularly suited to a hands-on owner who enjoys working with people and has a flair for organisation, hospitality and event coordination. The ideal buyer will take pleasure in planning functions, managing special events and creating memorable experiences for customers. While the café operation provides a solid foundation of recurring income, the function and catering side of the business offers significant scope for expansion.
