About the Business:

Events Management and Logistics Company

This company is a full-service event management and logistics company.

It was officially launched after the 2010 World Cup, following management contracts secured for the stadium branding and infrastructure builds of three World Cup venues.

Growth opportunities prior to COVID-19 were substantial. The focus on maintaining operational services for clients gave the business a full calendar of events and projects for the year.

There is a demand for operators within the space and a lot of room for the business to scale in events and with the right strategy into warehousing and logistics. The company experienced year-on-year growth from its inception and our credentials are solid.

This company is geared toward logistics and management solutions.

The project portfolio includes the events, production, and construction industries where vehicle and equipment hire, freight distribution, warehousing, and manufacturing solutions are provided, backed by solid project management principles and methodologies.

The team has been running nationwide event management and logistics for over 35 years, predominantly in the sporting events and festival arena. From conception to completion this business is your A-Team for turnkey solutions.

The selling price of R1 338 000 is for a 100% buyout.
