Business Report

Background and History

With the new car prices forever escalating and with the weakening of the SA Rand against international currencies, the second hand car market as well as owners maintaining their cars themselves, are increasing monthly

It is estimated that this curve (ie repairing of secondhand cars) will only continue to escalate in the future, especially with the SA economy in a downward trend

This business is well known in the whole of the Western Cape, and has clients right through from the West Coast, and right around to Helderberg and Overberg

The business is exceptionally well managed with very competent staff- the result of this is that the owner could start other business ventures which he would like to explore and hence the reason for selling
