Business Report

Background and History

Nano Air (PTY) Ltd is an HVAC Company that was originally apart of a group of 5 intergrated companies and was known as Nano Cool (PTY) Ltd. Nano Cool was a very small entity and focused only on residential properties. During this time, I initially was Employed by Nano Cool as a Business Developer and built up the company sales and profits when I ventured into the commercial sector.

An opportunity and an offer arose during my employment. It was decided then I would like to own the company and became the Owner of Nano Cool (PTY) Ltd. With the new venture onboard we had a change of direcorship / partnership and I broke away totally from the Intergrated Systems Group and formed Nano Air (PTY) Ltd as its own entity. The company since the move has grown substantially over the past two years and broadend prospects into the commercial sector ie:construction, "as Build" and tendering, The SLA department is growing monthly and its a very exciting milestone when I look back on the growth / reputation Nano has accomplished in this cut throat market.

Noano Air offers unsurpassed service with a passion and confidence. We pride ourselves in the industry.
