About the Business:

Entecom Franchise Opportunity (Launch your own Consultancy and Training Practice) Pretoria

Ready to transform your expertise into a business you own?

Entecom is expanding its national franchise network and seeking qualified food safety professionals to join us. If you have a degree in Food Science (or related field) and 8+ years of experience in Food Safety & Quality Systems, this is your opportunity to launch your own consultancy and training practice.

Leverage our proven brand and systems to build your future. Stop managing protocols and start building your legacy.

Due to the specialised nature of our market, we seek a business owner with a distinct and well-aligned professional background.

To Apply:

Email your CV and qualifications to brett@entecom.co.za.

In a brief email (max 500 words), tell us why you want to join the Entecom network and the value you would bring. Please include:

Your Expertise

What is your key area of specialization in food safety? Share one significant achievement you're proud of.

Your Entrepreneurial Drive

Why is this the right time for you to move into business ownership? What attracts you to the franchise model?

Why Entecom

What draws you to Entecom specifically, and what unique perspective, strengths, or experience would you contribute to our network?
